AUDITIONS:

State Level:

The State Auditions Chairman may elect to conduct the State Auditions all live or all CD. A delegated representative of the NFMC must witness the recording sessions.

Entrants must supply original scores of each composition performed (state level only) for possible reference by state judges, if needed.

National Level:

State chairman sends performances on CDs to the National Chairman, by March 1, for adjudication by a panel of distinguished authorities in the field of music.

1. Entrants may enter one category only.
2. Entrants must be prepared to play a program of 15 - 20 minute duration on his or her selected solo instrument.
3. All music submitted must be performed entirely from memory.

REPERTOIRE;

1. Only original compositions written for the respective solo instruments are acceptable. It is required that the repertoire be chosen to represent the various periods of music literature.
2. Arrangements (transcriptions) are accepted only when composed solo instrumental literature representing the various periods is unattainable (as in the harp, or Bach compositions written for earlier keyboard instruments transcribed for piano). When necessary to include arrangements, very careful consideration must be given to musical value and faithful interpretation.
3. Piano concerto CDs are not accepted in the national competition, therefore, entrants should not include these works at the state level.
4. As a guide in the selection of compositions to be performed, the following list is offered. Piano, violin, cello, and flute are listed; entrants in other classifications will select compositions of comparable musical standards and technical difficulty. Remember - this is not a required list; it is provided simply as an aid in choosing types of material to be performed.
5. At least one composition by an American composer must be included.

NOTE: The national first place winner of the Stillman-Kelley Competition is sometimes invited to present a musical program at an NFMC meeting. The opportunity for approximately 10-15 minute performance is offered by invitation from the President, specifying the exact hour and time allotted. No financial assistance for this appearance is offered by the National organization. This national exposure is invaluable to the young performer.
